GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

GOAL:

To learn general strategies for promoting mental health and resilience when tragedy strikes.

Objectives:

- 1) Identify the factors that cause an event to be viewed as a mass trauma or public tragedy.
- 2) Describe responses to sudden & traumatic loss after a disaster or terrorist act.
- 3) Describe common responses after a suicide & homicide.
- 4) List strategies for healing after a sudden violent death.
- 5) Identify the process of grief after a sudden loss.
- 6) Describe determinants that influence the way individuals grieve when tragedy strikes.
- 7) Describe theoretical models related to the process of mourning.
- 8) Describe various bereavement interventions.
- 9) Identify the importance of rituals after a sudden death.
- 10) Distinguish between stress and burnout.
- 11) Examine key symptoms of compassion fatigue, often described as the "stress of caring too much".
- 12) Identify 8 healthy strategies to cope with stress and build resiliency.
- 13) Develop a personal & professional care plan to address compassion fatigue.
